

Moon Bully

Appaloosa Racing Hall of Fame

Moon Bully had an illustrious and long career as a racehorse. The 2004 gelding (Man With The Power x TB Fancy Moon (QH)) was bred by John W. Holley of Mount Juliet, TN, and was last owned and loved as a family member by Judy Seely and her husband Dub of Sallisaw, OK.

Over the course of 74 starts Moon Bully amassed nearly a quarter of million dollars, seven Bronze Medallions, 14 Running Champion titles, and was in the top three of 19 prestigious stakes races including five wins in the Cricket Bars Futurity, two Cowboy Hall Of Fame Handicaps, the Mister Lewie Memorial, and the Sequoyah Stakes.

He maintained a triple-digit speed rating from 2007 through 2010 and defended his title of Appaloosa Horse of the Year at Remington Park Racetrack where he consistently defeated Paints as well as other Appaloosas. Judy Seely told * AJ * in 2010, "He loves his job! And he's very competitive."

As of this writing Moon Bully is still ranked fourth in the all-time Top 100 Leading Starters By Dollars Earned ($242,711.00) and his elevation into the Appaloosa Racing Hall of Fame is a celebration and well-earned.
